New coverage on environmental concerns and emerging technologies as well as examples and cases from Australia, New Zealand and Asia-Pacific serve to engage students while updated international content demonstrates how strategic management is used in the global economy. The text takes a 'resource-based' approach, which requires the examining of a firm's unique bundling of its internal resources." –Publisher's website.

Hal Everett is an American expatriate, guiding groups of tourists into the vast and remote Ecuadorian jungle. Hal, like most expatriates, is a misfit: failed marriages, businesses, and a stint in the seminary litter his past. The job is beginning to wear thin, and his current group of "adventurers" is a good example of why. This group is especially interesting and eclectic. They will prove to be a challenge to his guiding prowess and his sanity. Sandra and Bradley, two Brits, are abrasive and fiercely independent, and those are their good qualities. Alex and Anna, the Americans, are successful Hollywood actors, and, in Alex's case, a prima donna of the highest order. Finally, about the time when Hal begins to smooth out the bumpy going, they have a chance encounter on a remote river which changes everything not necessarily for the better. In the Amazon Basin, life always has a surprise or two to spring on you: "So much beauty at such a great price. There is always something out there waiting to bite or sting or infest you." Amazon Heat will make you sweat!

Peru, Christmas Eve, 1970. It was supposed to be a routine flight, carrying 86 passengers across the Andes Mountains and home for the holiday. But high above the Amazon rainforest, a roiling storm engulfs the plane. Lightning strikes. A deafening whoosh sweeps through the cabin. And suddenly, 17-year-old Juliane Koepeke is alone. The plane has vanished. She is strapped to her seat and plunging 3,500 feet to the forest floor. On Christmas Day, she wakes. She is injured, covered in mud, but strangely—miraculously—alive. And now, in a remote corner of the largest rainforest on Earth, the real battle for survival begins.

"By asking how the world's top innovators - Steve Jobs, Richard Branson, Jeff Bezos and many others - came up with their game-changing ideas. ... Rowan Gibson identifies four key business perspectives that will enable you to discover groundbreaking opportunities for innovation and growth: Challenging orthodoxies: what if the dominant conventions in your field, market, or industry are outdated, unnecessary or just plain wrong? Harnessing trends: where are the shifts and discontinuities that will, now and in the future, provide the energy you need for a major leap forward? Leveraging resources: how can you arrange existing skills and assets into new combinations that add up to more than the sum of their parts? Understanding needs: what are the unmet needs and frustrations that everyone else is simply ignoring?"--Publisher's description.
